Airborne Release Notice

The Discover Abitibi Initiative, Management Committee, is pleased to announce that the results of the first project completed are due to be released on Monday December 2, 2002. Dave McGirr, chair of the Timmins Economic Development Corporation said that “we are pleased that the results of the first major project will be available soon. The airborne survey which was conducted over a prospective area north of Timmins is expected to generate significant mineral exploration interest. The survey was flown utilizing the latest generation of airborne geophysical surveying known as MegaTem^{II}. This technique allows for deep penetration and improved discrimination of located anomalies which will be helpful in areas of thick overburden cover prevalent in the region. He went on to say that the survey was conducted as a joint venture between the Discover Abitibi Project Partners, FedNor, Geological Survey of Canada and the Ministry of Northern Development and Mines.

The outline of the area covered by the survey can be viewed on the website
